This working list was initially compiled, for all mayors and aldermanic sheriffs to 2010–11 (including sheriffs who became aldermen after being elected to the shrievalty), from John Chalstrey’s The Aldermen of the City of London 1900–2010 (City of London Corporation, 2011), and, for the first few years of the list, also from A.B. Beaven’s The Aldermen of the City of London, 2 vols. (Corporation of the City of London, 1908–13). Beaven’s volumes list all known London aldermen from the 13th century to 4 October 1912 and thus include a few who became sheriffs after 1912. Checks were then made in London against the Corporation of London’s manuscript Common Hall Books 11–13 (available at the London Metropolitan Archives, COL/CN/01/01/011–013). The Common Hall Books formally record, for this period, each year’s election results for the mayoralty and the shrievalty, including the mother company to which each of the candidates belongs. (The mother company—for a candidate belonging to more than one company—is the first company to the freedom of which the candidate was admitted, unless s/he was subsequently translated to another company.) All disagreements among Chalstrey, Beaven, and the Common Hall Books have been investigated, and the results recorded in the footnotes. Beaven records, in his footnotes, additional companies to which individuals also belonged; and this list includes them also in footnotes, as from Beaven. In Chalstrey, the mother company for each individual is noted in Chalstrey’s lists of aldermen by ward, and this is also normally the first company—where there is more than one—listed by Chalstrey in each individual’s biography, although only very occasionally does Chalstrey identify a specific company in an individual’s list as a mother company. Where the mother company in the ward list is not the first company in the biography, this list footnotes the fact; and it also footnotes, with attribution to Chalstrey, the additional company memberships listed by him in each biography. In this period, individuals sometimes belonged to many companies other than their mother company; listings of these other companies may not be complete, and also some companies may have been joined after the date of the shrievalty/mayoralty (very occasionally this information has been found and is included in the footnotes). Neither Chalstrey nor Beaven specifies whether any given mayor or sheriff already belonged, at the time of his/her mayoralty or shrievalty, to all of the companies listed for that mayor or sheriff; the base for both of their books is simply aldermanic status and company membership(s) as of 1912 (Beaven) or 2010 (Chalstrey). In the list below, “(hon.)” indicates an honorary status, according to Chalstrey, within the company concerned. For mayors and sheriffs too recently elected aldermen to be included in Chalstrey, reliable online sources have been consulted and are cited.

For non-aldermanic sheriffs, whose names below have been enclosed within { }, the initial source has been the Common Hall Books, to the end of Common Hall Book 13 (June 1996), and from mid-1996, reliable online sources, including lists (cited below as “online list(s)) on a London livery companies website:  http://liverycompanies.info. These website lists, combined since 2017 into a spreadsheet with tabs, have also been checked against pre-mid-1996 mayors and sheriffs, and any disagreements investigated. In some cases one or more company memberships have been identified on the lists as later than the mayoralties concerned; this information has also been included here in the footnotes, for sheriffs as well as mayors, despite being partial only. Also these lists often attach to a sheriff’s name, after 1979 only, his/her “election address,” i.e., candidacy statement; such a statement usefully provides not only the candidate’s mother company but also sometimes additional company memberships as well. More recently such election addresses are sometimes found on an individual’s personal website.

At Stage Two, the mother companies of all non-aldermanic sheriffs, and those of all aldermanic sheriffs where there is disagreement among the main sources over the mother company, are being checked in original company manuscript sources and/or in reliable printed company histories using those sources. Reliable online sources (e.g., official City records) are also being consulted. In every case the sources checked are identified in the footnotes; and where they do not refer to the shrievalty, what they do refer to (e.g., company master) is specified. Most of the checking has now been completed; where information has not yet been checked, this is indicated in a footnote. No further confirmation of companies is necessary in the cases where the online lists have made available a sheriff’s election address, as the information in election addresses comes from the candidates themselves. The same is true for information on an individual sheriff’s or mayor’s personal website (a comparatively recent development). One checking problem persists: in this period, most companies claim mayors and sheriffs as their own, regardless of whether these companies are the mother companies or additional companies for the individuals concerned. I have taken (to 1996) the Common Hall Books’ cited companies as the mother companies as long as at least one other reliable source for each individual agrees and no disagreement has been found, and have listed any other companies to which the individual belonged as additional companies. A Common Hall Book’s listed company is not contradicted unless there is convincing evidence against the Common Hall Book’s company. After 1996, mother company information comes from other sources, as noted above.

The additional companies, beyond the mother company, listed by Beaven or by Chalstrey for any one mayor or aldermanic sheriff have not been systematically checked, but wherever I came across confirmations while checking others’ mother companies I have included those confirmations in square brackets in the footnotes; they are to be found in the lists of additional companies provided, without references, by Beaven and by Chalstrey (who are specified as the 3Such histories vary in usefulness, especially because some sheriffs (the problem does not usually arise with mayors) do not have unique names, and the histories may identify as company members individuals with the same names as sheriffs who were not sheriffs; but someone who is identified as, e.g., a company master or warden around the time of the shrievalty concerned, or as serving on a company’s Court of Assistants, is normally the sheriff concerned. It has not been possible to check original MS sources, where extant, for all individuals.

sources for the company names only). Many of the additional companies remain unchecked. I also have not looked for any additional company memberships, for any mayor or sheriff, beyond those listed by Beaven and by Chalstrey; but where I came across such memberships while doing other checks, I recorded them, and have included them and my sources for them in the footnotes. Additional companies noted in the lists on the livery companies’ website have also been recorded where I have not found them elsewhere, are largely not checked, and have been attributed to “online list(s)”.

For any recent non-aldermanic sheriff, the { } marking his/her name will become inaccurate if s/he is subsequently elected as an alderman. As in both Beaven and Chalstrey, MASL from the start has not tried to distinguish between sheriffs already aldermen when elected and sheriffs elected as aldermen subsequent to being elected sheriffs; and { } indicates a sheriff never elected as an alderman, thus creating a problem (only) with recent non-aldermanic sheriffs, where aldermanic election subsequent to the shrievalty remains possible. I try to check these non-aldermanic sheriffs from time to time, in case subsequent aldermanic election has taken place, but do not guarantee promptness or accuracy in this.

For general information on the mayoral and shrieval terms of office, elections, companies, and the like, see the main database and also the headings to the pdf lists for 1559–1642, 1643–1750 and 1750–1831. By 1913, mayors were normally elected on 29 September, and sheriffs on 24 June; and the mayoral term began on 9–10 November, the shrieval term on 28 September.

Web links were tested at the time of list compilation; but unfortunately websites often undergo changes of address or are removed. City government web pages for individual sheriffs and mayors, e.g., are usually taken down when an individual ceases to be a member of the civic government, which makes information for non-aldermanic sheriffs likely to disappear more quickly than for aldermanic ones. The links continue to be cited here, however, as the original sources of the information provided.

Abbreviated references are given in full at the end of this list.

Common Hall Book 12, under 24 June 1912, confirms that Bower and Cooper were sheriffs in 1912–13. The 1913–14 sheriffs were Humphery and Painter (Common Hall Book 12, under 24 June 1913).

60 Haberdasher: Common Hall Book 12, under 24 June 1930; company’s freedom admissions register, LMA: CLC/L/HA/C/007/MS15857/003, p. 543, freedom (and livery) 14 Nov. 1924, by redemption. Gold and Silver Wyre Drawer: Chalstrey. The Haberdashers’ register notes a Gold and Silver Wyre Drawers’ membership since 17 May 1909; the Gold and Silver Wyre Drawers’ freedom admissions register, LMA: CLC/L/GF/C/004/MS02454/002, records Jenks’s freedom, by redemption, as 3 May 1909. Since the Gold and Silver Wyre Drawers’ freedom preceded the Haberdashers’ freedom, Jenks should have been listed in the Common Hall Book as a Gold and Silver Wyre Drawer, unless he had been translated to the Haberdashers rather than simply adding them as another company membership. No translation notation appears in the Haberdashers’ register (as, e.g., for George James Cullum Welch, sheriff 1950–1, translated from the Spectacle Makers in 1949); but a translation is likely, given the Common Hall Book identification. Chalstrey (p. 309) lists the Haberdashers second, after the Gold and Silver Wyre Drawers.

61 Haberdasher: Common Hall Book 12, under 29 Sept. 1931; company’s freedom admissions register, LMA: CLC/L/HA/C/007/MS15857/003, p. 543, freedom (and livery) 14 Nov. 1924, by redemption. Gold and Silver Wyre Drawer: Chalstrey. The Haberdashers’ register notes a Gold and Silver Wyre Drawers’ membership since 17 May 1909; the Gold and Silver Wyre Drawers’ freedom admissions register, LMA: CLC/L/GF/C/004/MS02454/002, records Jenks’s freedom, by redemption, as 3 May 1909. Since the Gold and Silver Wyre Drawers’ freedom preceded the Haberdashers’ freedom, Jenks should have been listed in the Common Hall Book as a Gold and Silver Wyre Drawer, unless he had been translated to the Haberdashers rather than simply adding them as another company membership. 65 Common Hall Book 12, under 24 June 1932, has Loriner; but see Henshawe p. 42: Threlford presented to the Needlemakers a gilt cup inscribed to them as his mother company. (He was also the Needlemakers’ master in 1952.) The Gardeners’ membership register, LMA: CLC/L/GA/C/004/MS09564/001, #357, also records Threlford as a Needlemaker. Also Gold and Silver Wyre Drawer (company’s freedom admissions register, LMA: CLC/L/GF/C/004/MS02454/002, freedom 15 Jan. 1923, by redemption), Basketmaker (Bobart/Perrin pp. 211), Gardener (MS reference above, #357, freedom 22 Nov. 1927, by redemption). Also Loriner?–company’s freedom admissions register 1909–44 is missing.

66 Also Loriner, Carman (Chalstrey). Bennett (Carmen p. 179) does not name Joseph (mayor in 1942–3) as a Carman.

Welch became free of the Haberdashers by redemption on 5 Oct. 1948 (company’s freedom admissions register, LMA: CLC/L/HA/C/007/MS15857/003, p. 579); and the Spectacle Makers are recorded, at his admission, as his mother company, but the Spectacle Makers are then crossed out in the MS and an added note states that he was translated to the Haberdashers on 19 July 1949. Consent of the Spectacle Makers to the translation: company’s court minutes, LMA: CLC/L/SH/B/001/MS05213/011, 1 July 1949, item 9. Also Solicitor [Hinde p. 78], Parish Clerk, Pavior [Dussek p. 76] (Chalstrey, also including Spectacle Maker).

124 Stationer and Newspaper Maker: Common Hall Book 12, under 25 June 1951 (as also when elected mayor, under 28 Sept. 1957); Unwin p. 59; Myers ed. p. 239. Vintner: Chalstrey; and treated as a Vintner by Robinson, e.g., pp. 58, 142, who also treats as a Vintner Francis Truscott, sheriff 1871–72, mayor 1879–80, who is also recorded as a Stationer in the Common Hall Books. Denis Henry Truscott acquired Vintners’ livery in 1929, and was on the court in 1947 (LMA: CLC/L/VA/C/022/MS15229/036, under Court list; other years not checked); and the company congratulated him when he was elected mayor (company’s court minutes, LMA: CLC/L/VA/B/001/MS15201/039, p. 265, 10 Oct. 1957). 125 Painter-Stainer: Common Hall Book 12, under 25 June 1951 (and again for the mayoral election, Common Hall Book 13, under 28 Sept.1963); company’s court minutes, LMA: CLC/L/PA/B/001/MS05667/011, e.g., pp. 194, 208; Arnold/Ingram p. 42. Plumber: [Young p. 225] Chalstrey. In the Plumbers’ court minutes, LMA: CLC/L/PH/B/001/MS02208/015, p. 530, sheriff-elect Harman asks the company’s permission to include its arms in his sheriff’s badge, so is clearly also a Plumber. Also Clockmaker, Painter-Stainer (Chalstrey). Chalstrey’s list of sheriffs and mayors on p. 21 gives Harman’s shrieval dates as 1961–2, but his biography of Harman on p. 259 gives them as 1951–2, which is correct. (Chalstrey also lists 2 other sheriffs for 1961–2: Rawson, on p. 24, and Denny, on p. 22; these are correct.)
